listening in the garden beds, Plowers lift up their dewy heads, Mand the shrill cock claps his wings, And the merry lark upsprings.

Caviour, to Thy cottage home.

Once the daylight used to come;

Thou hast offimes seen it break

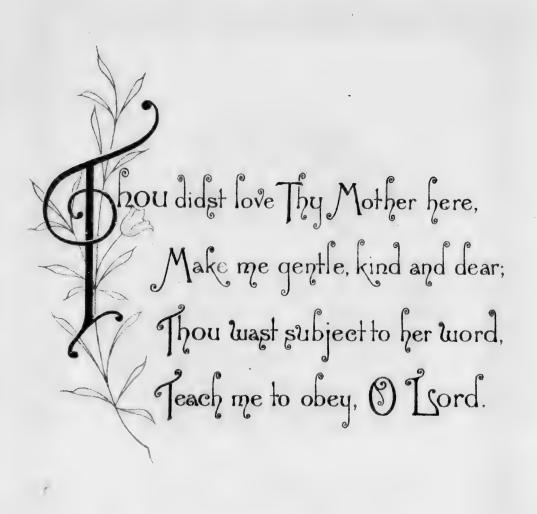

Brightly o'er that eastern lake.

hild of Mary, Thou dost know, What of danger, joy, or woe, Shall to day my portion be, Let me meet it all in Thee.

hou wast meek and undefiled, Make me holy, too, and mild; Thou didst foil the tempter's poluer, Help me in temptations hour.

ier,

retful feeling, passion, pride, Never did with Thee abide; Make me watch myself to day, That they lead me not astray.

ith Thee, Sord, I would arise, To Thee look with opening eyes, All the day be at my side, Saviour, Pattern, King, and Guide.
